

THE KS2GEMS GRAMMAR AND PUNCTUATION PROGRAMME

The KS2Gems Grammar and Punctuation Programme

The Grammar and Punctuation resources match the English National Curriculum Objectives for each year group.

The long term plan for each year group is for 3 terms each lasting 12 weeks. Adjustments may need to be made to take account of differing term lengths. The Word objectives are matched with the relevant Spelling objectives in The Spelling Programme; therefore if an adjustment is made in the Grammar and Punctuation Programme a corresponding adjustment might need to be made in the Spelling Programme. Each term there are several opportunities mapped out for review and assessment. Ongoing assessment is a crucial feature of the programme to determine if prior learning needs revisiting. The use of retrieval practice to keep the knowledge and understanding 'active' is essential.

For each NC objective we provide a PowerPoint which explores the rules and techniques relevant for that objective and provides:

- Whole- class opportunities to practise the skill;
- A range of activities to use the skill in either a reading or writing context.

These activities can be used in small groups; with pairs or independently.

It is advised that the PowerPoints are spilt into smaller chunks to suit the needs of your class.

Research, from Exeter University (Myhill et al., 2013), shows that Grammar and Punctuation needs to be taught explicitly and in context to promote a child's deep knowledge and understanding. In particular, real life examples of both Grammar and Punctuation from a range of diverse, rich literature; discussion of the choices that authors have made when writing will enhance a child's experience of Grammar and Punctuation. Grammar helps children to understand how language works, from this understanding a child has the ability to choose how to use it to write creatively.

The Reading and Writing Challenges that are included in the PowerPoint presentations address the need for teaching in context. However the provision of a text rich learning environment and access to a range of literature coupled with wide-ranging opportunities for writing are also required to embed the children's depth of knowledge and understanding.

In addition to the year group PowerPoint presentations there is a range of quizzes to support assessment and review.

Worksheets are not part of the programme because they do not develop the deep knowledge and understanding required for creative writing.

Start of year assessments and Progress Tests to fit with the programme are available on the website.
